Project Abstract :

The DWI Intervention and Prevention/MERIT Specialty Court was created to merge the DWI Intervention and Prevention Program and the Mentoring, Encouraging, Recovery, Intervention, Treatment (MERIT Program). Initially these were two separate programs; with the DWI Program being the principal program offenders would enter when being charged with a DWI offense. The Program consisted of an 18-month intensive treatment program with five phases participants must complete in order to successfully graduate the program. Many participants graduating the Program were still under the supervision of the El Paso County Community Supervision and Corrections Department (CSCD); serving lengthy probation sentences. These individuals, under the CSCD supervision; were not receiving continuum of care, not receiving much needed treatment to transition from the program while still under probation. Judge Anchondo, sitting Judge for this program; recognized the need to continue providing care for the longer-serving probation participants and created the MERIT Program. This was a separate program the participants entered for an up to two years of continuum care. In an effort to improve the programs and be more successful at securing competitive funding, the Judge merged the Programs; the DWI Intervention and Prevention/MERIT Specialty Court. The goal of the program is to improve public safety, strive to reduce recidivism for alcohol and drug offenders through cost effective integrated continuum of care through a judicially supervised regime of treatment and mental health services for chemically addicted offenders in El Paso County. The program accepts non-violent offenders with a history of alcohol use, substance use, mental health disorders, trauma histories to include participants who have served in the military and participants who have been charged with DWI on federal reservations. Upon entering the program, participants are clinically assessed to determine their treatment needs and assigned to the appropriate treatment provider (i.e. outpatient substance abuse treatment, inpatient treatment, and mental health provider). While participants are receiving treatment services, participants are randomly tested weekly by Community Supervision/Surveillance Officers to monitor abstinence. In addition to ongoing drug testing, the Community Supervision Officers and Surveillance Officer monitor client activity in the community and report regularly to the Team to assure client accountability. Each phase of the program is set up with specific objectives to assist the client in being successful in the community. Phase I of the program is designed to assess and refer the client for substance abuse treatment and other services deemed necessary by the team. Phase II transitions the client from substance abuse treatment to employment or vocational training. Phase III will prepare the participant to make the transition from intensive supervision to less intensive supervision of the aftercare component. Phase IV is adaptive habilitation and Phase V is continuing care. It is here that most participants graduate from the program. Participants of the program that have been identified with severe needs for more services and supervision, will continue with the MERIT up to an additional 2 years. The MERIT Program will continue to provide recovery capital, monthly supervision, home visits, and referrals to community services. This is a crucial first step to help participants initiate abstinence and achieve other symptom remission, but an equally or more important goal is to link them to peer recovery networks and lengthen treatment gains. Recovery capital will target family needs, stability, education, and financial responsibilities. The Program's mandatory treatment services, coupled with intensified monitoring and the immediacy of addressing a client's progress or regress, is expected to allow the program to meet the stated objectives outlined in the proposal. In the absence of the Program, El Paso would continue to have a high number of non-violent offenders forced to wait before receiving access to the limited services and supervision available.

Problem Statement :

El Paso County initiated the DWI Drug Intervention and Prevention Court due to the high volume of DWI arrests. According to the El Paso Sheriff's office, there have been 1016 DWI arrests from 2020 to 2022. DWI arrest includes DWI 1st, DWI 2nd, DWI 3rd or more, DWI BAC  $\geq 0.15$ , DWI w/child under 15 yoa, DWI open container. Jails in El Paso are inundated with first, second, third and repeat offenders. These individuals are lacking the education and resources needed to break this vicious cycle. It is the intent of this program to provide treatment through medication, assessment, education, counseling, recovery management, and family reunification. There will also be supervision through probation officers and surveillance officers. The purpose of the MERIT Tier was based on studies showing that persons with chronic or compulsive substance disorders remain vulnerable to a recurrence of substance use and substance related dysfunction after completing treatment and recovery management. It also assists participants to become clinically stable and experience greater confidence in their recovery, thus assuming an increasingly central role in setting their own goals, recognizing signs of symptom recurrence, taking action to avoid setbacks and even provide support to other persons in recovery. Studies confirm that recovery management services extend treatment gains, reduce criminal recidivism, and enhance other recovery- oriented goals. This is to allow the participants to become healthy individuals and have the opportunity to become successful citizens and ultimately make our community a safer place to live and raise our families.

Supporting Data :

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 841,286 people live in the El Paso County area as of July 2020. Approximately, 92% of this population is of Hispanic origin and bilingual. Local statistics clearly substantiate the problem of Driving While Intoxicated, the dangers associated and the trend established with repeat offenders. The jails in El Paso are inundated with first, second, third and repeat offenders. These individuals are lacking the education and resources needed to break this vicious cycle. It is the intent of this program to provide treatment through medication, assessment, education, counseling and family reunification to allow participants to become healthy individuals and can become successful citizens. This ultimately will make our communities a safer place to live and raise our families. The Program does not discriminate and does not target any race or ethnicity. Due to the El Paso County bordering one of the largest cities in Mexico; Juarez, Chihuahua. It is not unusual for most of the clients to be of Hispanic origin. In addition, many clients, participating in the program, have immediate family residing in Juarez. In accordance with Best Practices, the program ensures "Citizens who have historically experienced sustained discrimination or reduced social opportunities because of their race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, sexual identity, physical or mental disability, religion, or socioeconomic status receive the same opportunities as other citizens". Our program implements treatment court policies, procedures and practices that enable and empower our team to provide culturally and linguistically appropriate services to our culturally complex clientele. In addition, the 10 Guiding Principles for DWI Courts utilizes objective eligibility criteria and conducts validated clinical assessments for this DWI population. The DWI Intervention and Treatment Program is an intense 18-month-long program, focusing on the hardcore repeat offenders, the MERIT Program is a 2-year-long program focusing on long-term sobriety, with 2 phases. Participants that have more than two years left on probation after completing the DWI Program will transition to the MERIT Program, to continue to receive recovery capital services, (employment, housing, medical services, education, family counseling, peer support) as well as continued monitoring from the court. We have gathered data on approximately 31 graduates from the MERIT program who have maintained sobriety for a minimum of 5 years and have not reoffended. Studies have shown that by extending recovery services, it helps achieve long-term sobriety, reduce criminal recidivism, or law enforcement contacts, and enhance other recovery-oriented goals. At least three studies have reported that drug courts or post-prison reentry programs delivering enhanced recovery support services had significantly better outcomes in terms of longer treatment retention, lower symptom recurrence, higher employment rates, and reduced criminal recidivism (Lucenko et al., 2014; Mangrum, 2008; Ray et al., 2015). Treatment courts that embrace a recovery management framework are likely to achieve sustained improvements in participant outcomes, whereas those that continue to follow a discredited acute care model may find that their benefits are discouragingly short-lived (Heaps et al., 2009; Taylor, 2014).

Project Approach & Activities:

The El Paso Community Planning Alliance is comprised of agencies and/or organizations that collectively work to reduce the substance abuse issues of the El Paso region. Illicit use and sale of drugs, and crimes committed under the influence of drugs or alcohol are a high priority for adults in El Paso County. The Program will address the problem of alcohol abuse, mental health issues and history of trauma, by offering intensive outpatient treatment as well as residential services, to include intense supervision from community supervision and law enforcement aspects, which will then continue through the RISE tier for those participants that have been identified to need further care to address their severe needs. Our team monitors participants' progress and sobriety throughout their program participation. Participants report for court status hearings and to their community supervision officer, depending on what phase they are in the program; a participant may be required to report more often if ordered by the judge. Participants are subject to random drug and alcohol testing and random home and work visits conducted by law enforcement officers, community supervision officers, and case manager/compliance officer. All drug and alcohol urine analysis (UA) testing is observed by a Program representative of the same sex to prevent contamination, adulteration, dilution, or a change of specimen. Drug testing results are reported during weekly team meetings and are entered in the Management Information System and case file. Violations are discussed during team staffing and include appropriate treatment approaches and/or sanctions. The judge makes all final decisions on what approach to take concerning the participants' progress. The project would need the assistance of a case manager and to be a liaison to all agencies. The case manager would help the participants remove obstacles to client recovery, compliance with the court requirements, and overall well-being. The case manager would use a designated tool to assess each new participant to set goals for their overall physical, mental, family life, and spiritual health. The current areas of assistance include: GED prep and testing ass Our team monitors participants' progress and sobriety throughout their program participation. There is an extensive amount of resource agencies such as the Texas workforce-job search training, Project Amistad-transportation for the disabled elderly, Project Vida, University Medical Center, San Vicente clinic and Texas Tech medical center-medical services, Housing Authority-housing services, Rescue mission, Salvation Army, Opportunity Center-shelter services, El Paso Food bank-food, El Paso General assistance-assistance with paying rent and utility bills. Our program has established a Memorandum of Understanding between these agencies and others in the community.

Capacity & Capabilities:

Judge Robert Anchondo started the first DWI Specialty Court Program in 2004 in the State of Texas. The mission of the DWI Specialty Court Program is designed to reduce recidivism of alcohol and drug offenders and to enhance public safety through a cost-effective integrated continuum of care and a judicially supervised regime of treatment and innovative case management. The El Paso DWI Court Program works with offenders with a history of alcohol use, substance use, mental health disorders, trauma histories to include participants who have served in the military and participants who have been charged with DWI on federal reservations. The program has built invaluable partnerships within the community, which include local law enforcement, Texas Workforce, the University of Texas at El Paso and Texas Tech, local hospitals and medical professionals such as Aliviane Treatment Counseling Center, community family counseling services and Emergency Health Network mental health services. The multidisciplinary team embraces the region's diverse population and has taken strides to engage participants' family members to assist and help ensure a more successful prolonged recovery. In March 2023, the fourth consecutive National Academy Court designation was awarded to the El Paso DWI Intervention and Treatment Court. The Program has a capacity of 125 participants. Since its inception in 2004, the program has screened approximately 1,210 potential clients and has enrolled 960 of those screened for the program. The program currently has 111 active participants in the Program and 39 in the MERIT Program and has successfully graduated a total of 883 graduates. The program continues to grow as it is evident in the number of participants and the graduates from year-to-year and the continuum referrals from Misdemeanor, Felony and Federal Courts. Each participant is assessed, utilizing the Clinical Management for Behavioral Health Services (CMBHS), CARS, ASI which covers questions about the participant's education, employment, family, social, legal, mental health, medical, and substance use history. Client's level of treatment is determined and a diagnosis of abuse or dependency for alcohol and/or drugs is identified. A treatment plan is created, which includes goals for the client and the means by which they can achieve those goals. Also included: the frequency that each participant receives treatment, e.g., supportive outpatient and group sessions three times a week, an individual session weekly (or intensive outpatient), mental health counseling, case management services, peer support services or residential services; between 30 days to 6 months, depending on the facility. During the aftercare program, clients are seen once per month for group and individual sessions for continued support in their recovery and to prepare for discharge from the program. Clients who met trauma criteria are given an extensive bio-psychosocial assessment, which includes a mental status exam to identify needs and/or mental health diagnosis done by a Psychiatrist and License Professional Counselor. Treatment is then tailored to the participant's needs, which includes type, length, and frequency of services. Participants must then attend recovery support groups as determined by the treatment provider and are also offered case manager services, peer support meetings at least once a week as well as individual, couples, families, peer support and/or recovery support. We link participants with outside community service agencies for assistance depending on their needs. Providers generate a person-centered plan based on the outcomes of the initial assessment with participant. Goals and objectives, based on participant's specific needs, are developed, and include strategies that provide insight into the problem and needed steps to reach their goals. Assessment also exposes issues that need to be addressed in order to facilitate the participant's success in the program and in their recovery. Transportation is a major issue with participants because the participant's driver's license is suspended as a result of their conviction. The Public Defender can assist with obtaining an occupational driver's license. Housing is also addressed at this time. If the participant is not in a safe environment, they are ordered to move. Alternate housing is then sought (with family, friends, or temporary shelters like The Rescue Mission, The Opportunity Center, etc.) Other services provided include marital/family counseling and/or parenting skills classes. The DWI Intervention and Treatment Program is an intense 18-month-long program, focusing on the hardcore repeat offenders, with 5 phases and the MERIT Program is a 2-year-long program focusing on long-term sobriety, with 2 phases. Participants that have more than two years left on probation after completing the DWI Program will transition to the MERIT Program, to continue to receive recovery capital services, (employment, housing, medical services, education, family counseling, peer support) as well as continued monitoring from the court. HB3474 took effect in September 2023 and reads as follows: SECTION 2.009. Section 25.0732, Government Code, is amended by adding Subsection (c) to read as follows: (c) The County Criminal Court at Law No. 2 of El Paso County, Texas, is designated to conduct the DWI Drug Court Intervention and Treatment Program of El Paso County as a drug court program under Chapter 123 for persons arrested for, charged with, or convicted of an offense involving the operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Performance Management :

The Program is a specialized court designated to handle adults placed on community supervision for DWI offenses. The mission of the program is to enhance public safety and strive to reduce recidivism of alcohol and drug offenders through a cost-effective integrated continuum of care and a judicially supervised regime of treatment and innovative case management. Eligible individuals are males and females 17 years or older, with DWI offenses; misdemeanor and/or felony who reside within El Paso County. The program's goals and objectives are to reduce recidivism among adult DWI/Drug offenders in El Paso County. The program uses a multi-faceted approach whose objectives include: reduce alcoholism and drug abuse and dependency among offenders, reduce overcrowded prisons, offender to attend mandatory alcohol/drug treatment counseling, attend life skills counseling, attend recovery support groups, complete community service hours and provide intense supervision by Community Supervision Officers and Surveillance Officers and the monitoring of random alcohol/drug testing. The program utilizes the Household Data Base System (HDBS) to collect data on its program. Data collected for each participant includes: urine analysis and breath samples collected and results, court settings, home visits, phase advancements, treatment reports, and violations or re-arrests. HDBS collects basic information helpful for tracking the participants' progress through the drug court process. The Program was able to work with El Paso County's Information Technology Department on software that allows team members to input information on the participants into a central database, Household, available to all team members. This software allows the team to evaluate the participants' history and progress. This year, two professors from UTEP (University of Texas at El Paso), will be evaluating the program data to determine outcomes.

Target Group :

Adults, 17 and over, convicted for a DWI offense (s) to include military/veterans and individuals with mental health needs. The DWI Drug Court Program has met the stated objectives/goals for over 18 years of its program existence.

Evidence-Based Practices:

The Evidence Based Practices that has been effective for the program is what we have acquired through training that was offered through the National Association of Drug Court Professionals. This training and the experience that we have gathered has helped provide the structure and guidance to participants for which we are able to hold them accountable through the program. Our program exit survey that is completed by participants that are ready to graduate have indicated that being monitored on a regular basis has kept them on track with program goals. This also includes the constant random alcohol and drug testing, unannounced home visits from the officers, reporting weekly to treatment, and weekly reporting to drug court review hearings, this has proven highly effective on all participants. The program has been recently awarded with Federal funding; some funding will be used to evaluate the program in performance measures such as retention, sobriety, in-program recidivism and units of service. In 2018, the El Paso County Budget analytic department evaluated our past graduates to determine recidivism rate (graduates 2013-2014) with results of outcome being 5.67% compared to regular probation group which results of outcome were at 11.67% recidivism rate. We link participants with outside community service agencies for assistance depending on their needs. There is an extensive amount of resource agencies, such as the Texas workforce-job search training, Project Amistad-transportation for the disabled elderly, Project Vida, University Medical Center, San Vicente clinic and Texas Tech medical center-medical services, Housing Authority-housing services, Rescue mission, Salvation Army, Opportunity Center-shelter services, El Paso Food bank-food, El Paso General assistance-assistance with paying rent and utility bills. Our program has established a Memorandum of Understanding between these agencies and others in the community. Studies that have determined persons with chronic or compulsive substance disorders remain vulnerable to a recurrence of substance use and severe substance-related dysfunction after completing treatment and remaining abstinent for 3 to 5 years, and some persons may remain at a heightened risk for symptom recurrence after more than 10 to 15 years. Due to this research, participants of the DWI Specialty Court Program that have been identified with severe needs for more services and supervision, will transition to the newly created MERIT program ( Mentoring, Encouraging, Recovery, Intervention, Treatment) for up to an additional 2 years. The MERIT program will continue to provide recovery capital, monthly supervision, home visits, and referrals to community services. This is a crucial first step to encourage participants to continue with their sober living and continue in the road of recovery.
