Local governments determined to not be in compliance with the cybersecurity requirements required by Section 2054.5191 of the Texas Government Code are ineligible for OOG grant funds until the second anniversary of the date the local government is determined ineligible. Government entities must annually certify their compliance with the training requirements using the Cybersecurity Training Certification for State and Local Governments. A copy of the Training Certification must be uploaded to your eGrants application. For more information or to access available training programs, visit the Texas Department of Information Resources Statewide Cybersecurity Awareness Training page.

Criminal History Reporting

Entities receiving funds from PSO must be located in a county that has an average of 90% or above on both adult and juvenile dispositions entered into the computerized criminal history database maintained by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) as directed in the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, Chapter 66. The disposition completeness percentage is defined as the percentage of arrest charges a county reports to DPS for which a disposition has been subsequently reported and entered into the computerized criminal history system.

Counties applying for grant awards from the Office of the Governor must commit that the county will report at least 90% of convictions within five business days to the Criminal Justice Information System at the Department of Public Safety.

To be considered eligible for funding, applicants must have submitted a full twelve months of accurate data to DPS for the most recent calendar year by the deadline(s) established by DPS. Due to the importance of timely reporting, applicants are required to submit complete and accurate UCR data, as well as the Texas-mandated reporting, on a no less than monthly basis and respond promptly to requests from DPS related to the data submitted.

Entities That Collect Sexual Assault/Sex Offense Evidence or Investigate/Prosecute Sexual Assault or Other Sex Offenses

Visit DPS's Sexual Assault Evidence Tracking Program website for more information or to set up an account to begin participating. Additionally, per Section 420.042 "A law enforcement agency that receives evidence of a sexual assault or other sex offense...shall submit that evidence to a public accredited crime laboratory for analysis no later than the 30th day after the date on which that evidence was received." A law enforcement agency in possession of a significant number of Sexual Assault Evidence Kits (SAEK) where the 30-day window has passed may be considered noncompliant.

Applicant agrees to use program income for allowable costs and agrees to expend program income immediately after PSO's approval of a grant adjustment and prior to requesting reimbursement of funds.

Deduction Method - Program income shall be deducted from total allowable costs to determine the net allowable costs. Program income shall be used for current costs unless PSO authorizes otherwise. Program income which the grantee did not anticipate at the time of the award shall be used to reduce the PSO award and grantee match rather than to increase the funds committed to the project.

National Instant Background Check System (NICS)

Entities receiving funds under this solicitation that are to generate or upgrade court dispositions or other records that are relevant to National Instant Background Check System (NICS) determinations must have a system in place to ensure that all such NICS-relevant dispositions or records that are generated or upgraded are made available in timely fashion to state repositories/databases that are accessed by NICS.

Project Abstract :

The Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) is a community partnership between the El Paso County Sheriff's Office (EPCSO) and Emergence Health Network (EHN), the Local Mental Health Authority in El Paso County. Together, a Deputy and an EHN mental health specialist respond to calls to aid and provide resolution to any crisis or high-risk situation that may involve a citizen in a behavioral or mental health crisis. The EPCSO and EHN provide options for safer and more effective responses to dynamic law enforcement incidents involving persons in suspected mental health crisis and situations involving persons with a diagnosed or suspected mental illness and/or intellectual disability. As such, the CIT specialize in responding effectively to El Paso County's mental health crisis situations, communicated through agency dispatch calls or while out on patrol. The project team was initiated by El Paso County and EHN in Spring 2021 and consisted of four full-time SO deputies and four EHN mental health professionals, in 2024, the project has proven its effectiveness and has grown to a team of one deputy Lieutenant, one deputy Sergeant, ten deputies and ten mental health professionals. By applying for this funding, EPCSO hopes to continue funding for four CIT members including deputies and a Lieutenant, and one CIT mental health professionals who will provide the needed staffing to assist the Crisis Intervention Team. The EPCSO and EHN believe the CIT program will continue to be a successful and innovative endeavor, as CIT team members are committed to promoting holistic solutions to assist individuals with mental health illness and/or substance abuse within El Paso County. Each CIT member is provided with intensive training and the necessary tools to take part in wide range of mental health crisis calls. The EPCSO considers this team a long-term option to provide mental health assistance to the community and hopes it will provide a valuable response option to those in the community who may be experiencing a mental health crisis, issues with addiction, and the everyday struggles that may come with homelessness. The total funding request for this project is $799,143.75.

Problem Statement :

The El Paso County SO and EHN explore options for providing safer and more effective responses to dynamic law-enforcement incidents involving persons in suspected mental health crisis and situations involving persons with a diagnosed or suspected mental illness and/or intellectual disability. In the past few years, the EPCSO has increasingly received requests to intervene and assist in situations involving suicide attempts, individuals suspected of posing a future threat to the community, emergency detention or protective custody order, issues of homelessness and/or addiction, and missing persons (who are typically elderly persons with Alzheimer's or Dementia). As mental health needs and critical population needs have become more prevalent in El Paso County, the EPCSO has recognized the need for specialized response and services. If the EPCSO has trained deputies for these matters, as well as assigned mental health professionals, this can make a significant impact on how persons of special needs may be assisted. The El Paso County SO has come to the realization that many persons may benefit more through receiving proper mental health services and having access to applicable community resources, rather than being placed in a short-term or long-term detention facility. Many incidents that have happened throughout the County are a direct result of mental illness and/or are linked to mental illness in some form or fashion. By addressing and focusing on the root cause of these incidents or crises, the SO CIT can help persons with seeking the assistance they need to help themselves be on the path to healthy living. With the implementation of a CIT, persons and families will be provided necessary community resources and referred to valuable services to address underlying/root causes to such crises.

Supporting Data :

The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) has indicated several important benefits of local CIT programs: "1) Gives police officers more tools to do their job safely and effectively. Research shows that CIT is associated with improved officer attitude and knowledge about mental illness. In Memphis, CIT resulted in an 80% reduction of officer injuries during mental health crisis calls. 2) Keeps law enforcement's focus on crime. Some communities have found that CIT has reduced the time officers spend responding to a mental health call. This puts officers back into the community more quickly. 3) Produce cost savings. It's difficult to estimate exactly how much diversion programs can save communities. But incarceration is costly compared to community-based treatment. For example, in Detroit an inmate with mental illness in jail costs $31,000 a year, while community-based mental health treatment costs only $10,000 a year." (https://www.nami.org/Advocacy/Crisis-Intervention/Crisis-Intervention-Team-\(CIT\)-Programs-Programs)) In 2024, the Sheriff's Office reports show that CIT units responded to a total of 1939 calls suspected of involving mental health problems. Out of the 1939 calls, a total of 726 were confirmed mental health related calls. CIT units completed a total of 425 emergency detention orders with zero incidents of use of force needed to execute the named detentions. CIT units were able to successfully refer a total of 338 citizens to either inpatient or outpatient services. CIT units provided community service packets with safety plan actions to each of those cases to help prevent future crisis. CIT units successfully diverted a total of 482 clients from possible unnecessary incarceration or unnecessary hospitalization by referring them to appropriate outpatient services and/or mental health facilities instead of emergency rooms. As a note, the City of El Paso (El Paso Police Department) has already implemented a CIT program, which began in January 2019. With the El Paso County SO implementing a CIT program, this has helped increase service to areas of El Paso County that the City of El Paso may not have jurisdiction to provide such services in. The El Paso County SO responds to emergency calls in the following additional municipalities: Town of Anthony, Town of Clint, Town of Horizon, City of San Elizario, City of Socorro, and the Village of Vinton. Some of these smaller municipalities may not have the funding or resources to produce and implement a CIT, therefore, El Paso County would like to ensure these municipalities have access to CIT program resources and help address calls regarding mental illness in these areas.

Project Approach & Activities:

The El Paso County SO CIT deploy in collaboration with EHN mental health clinicians. Each entity has its command structure and has interagency agreements to support the program and its functions. Together the two agencies create a cross-functional unit where leadership can oversee the progress and collaborate in operational procedures. Community stakeholders and CIT leadership meets regularly to ensure the program's adequacy and effectiveness. The CIT receive mental health disturbance referrals from the 911 Communications Center and/or a conventional police unit on the scene. El Paso County emergency calls are filtered by 911 telecommunicators to ensure the CIT responds to mental health-related calls or welfare checks. CIT members will respond to mental health crisis related calls within the community to include the unincorporated areas of El Paso County and to include both county detention facilities and the incorporated areas of the County, including Horizon City, Anthony, San Elizario, Socorro, Clint and Vinton. If awarded, this grant will help support CIT staff including five deputies and five mental health professionals. El Paso County Sheriff's Office CIT is one of only four units in Texas to "co-deploy", meaning that CIT deputies are partnered with a mental health professional who provides support during each mental health crisis-related call. When available, units must respond to crisis referrals within thirty minutes, co-deploying reduces the response time, and both parties will arrive together to assess the call for service. The CIT SO units in operation, are available seven days a week, including holidays. Before each shift starts, every group meets to discuss and inform staff of any relevant information for the day. The synergy between both organizations is essential to compile the wisdom of their expertise and experiences. The El Paso County CIT unit is providing a critical needed resource to the community, and it is essential to use all available resources to ensure individuals in crisis receive a rapid response and adequate treatment. EHN offers a 24/7 crisis unit and a low acuity inpatient unit - Extended Observation Unit (EOU), which is available for CIT drop-offs or inpatient referrals, both located at 1601 East Yandell, El Paso, TX 79902. If an individual in crisis requires acute inpatient services, any EHN CIT specialist can refer to any other psychiatric hospital that can provide the best treatment for the consumer. EHN members must complete documentation within 24 hours of each CIT response. The CIT staff will have access to and may utilize all El Paso County SO facilities and/or Emergence Health Network CIT office located at 1601 East Yandell, El Paso, TX 79902. In addition, each member will have access to several special software and programs to help them facilitate referrals for consumers and document all responses. Each CIT EHN member will be assigned a tablet, Smartphone with hot spot access, tactical backpacks, ballistic vest, and uniforms. All CIT members are responsible for having their equipment every shift to ensure their safety and provide adequate services for all clients.

Capacity & Capabilities:

Being a member of a CIT is known to be a high-risk job. Therefore, to ensure the safety of all members, it is crucial every member be equipped with all the necessary training and tools to respond to any and all mental health crisis-related calls. El Paso County SO CIT deputies assigned to the team are mandated to obtain certification under the Texas Commission of Law Enforcement (TCOLE) 1850 CIT course and are also mandated to complete 40 hours of an intensive mental health-related topics and role-play crisis scenarios. In addition to the TCOLE 1850 CIT certification, SO CIT deputies will take 120 hours of advanced mental health response trainings at the CIT Academy (developed by EHN staff). In a like manner, EHN CIT members will be credentialed as Qualified Mental Health Professionals (QMHP). Some EHN members are considered experts in additional fields due to special certifications and/or licenses, such as Licensed Professionals of Healing Arts (LPHA) or Licensed Chemical Dependency Counselors (LCDC). EHN CIT staff will also take a 40-hour police course with primary law enforcement protocols and safety procedures. Several mandatory refreshers and trainings are provided throughout the year for all CIT staff members to expand their knowledge and ability to safely and effectively respond to mental health-related calls.

Performance Management :

CIT is a program design to reduce the stigma of law enforcement and mental illness by encouraging five core goals. 1. Diversion from Jail: Decrease unnecessary incarceration of people with mental illness and reducing the cost to the criminal justice system. 2. Diversion from Hospitals: Rerouting individuals in crisis who do not require medical attention to observation units or psychiatric hospitals. Promote the reduction cost to the local hospitals and increase the resources for other individuals who require immediate medical attention. 3. Avoid/reduce the use of force by police: By practicing de-escalation techniques and promoting a humanistic approach, it reduces the use of force by law enforcement, prevents unnecessary injuries and accidental deaths. 4. Linkage to outpatient services: Linking individuals to psychiatric outpatient services for continuity of care. Individuals have a choice of following up with the Local Mental Health Authority or seek private services. 5. A decrease in recidivism: Providing individuals with early intervention can reduce recidivism within the criminal justice system or psychiatric inpatient resources. These five core goals will be tracked and managed by CIT members collectively, but monitored more frequently by CIT agency leads from both the EPCSO and EHN. Program measures and outputs will be tracked to assess if the program is on track to support its goals and use all corresponding data for future program use. Data collected for the El Paso County SO CIT will also allow the EPCSO and EHN to collaborate and develop new trainings, recommend additional certifications and/or licenses, and on areas of program improvement. Some of significant accomplishments since the inception of the CIT program include: - Completed training on CIT techniques and legal aspects of Emergency Detention Orders to Deputies and outside law enforcement officers attending the 40-hour course on crisis intervention (TCOLE #1850). - Initiation of training to deputies of different patrol stations to provide a better understanding of Emergency Detentions, Crisis, CIT techniques and de-escalation techniques. - CIT training for Constables from all precincts and EHN central offices. - Held meetings with personnel from the El Paso Multi Use Facility (MUF) to better coordinate the calls made out of the facility and to educate management and officers at the MUF in proper procedures and de-escalation techniques, reducing the number of calls made to the EPCSO. - CIT training for Customs and Border Patrol agents - CIT training for deputies assigned as School Resource Officers

Target Group :

The target group for the CIT program consists of persons experiencing mental, emotional, physical, and behavioral distress that may be potentially linked to mental illness. Although not always, many of these crises may be directly caused by or linked to mental illness. As discussed, many EPCSO emergency calls that will be addressed by the El Paso County SO CIT may be related to attempted suicides, emergency detention or protective custody orders, issues of homelessness and/or addiction, and missing persons. However, the emergency calls addressed are not limited to these specific situations. The CIT will respond to any emergency circumstances that may best fall under the CIT's expertise.

Evidence-Based Practices:

The Memphis Police Department developed the original CIT model in 1988 (Memphis Model), and now the model has expanded nationwide to serve and protect individuals who suffer mental illness and promote officers' safety. It is essential to understand that having a mental illness is not a crime; in several cases, early intervention can make a difference in someone's life. "The primary goals of the model are to increase safety in encounters and when appropriate, divert persons with mental illnesses from the criminal justice system to mental health treatment" (<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3769782/>). The El Paso County SO has a special team of deputies as part of the CIT. This is taken from the Memphis Police Department model. According to the model, "the rationale is that not all officers are cut out to be CIT officers. Those that volunteer and are accepted into the program may have a particular disposition and interest in handling mental health calls. This better prepares them to use CIT training to become effective in responding to mental health crisis calls. CIT provides officers with additional skills and identifies them as the ones who should be dispatched to mental health related calls" (<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3769782/>). As such, the El Paso County SO currently has deputies serving on the CIT that are particularly interested in responding to calls related to mental health and help steer individuals in the right direction to receive appropriate services and have access to community resources to treat mental illness. In addition, the El Paso County CIT prefer the first encounter with persons experiencing crises to set the pace for a positive future and perhaps make a long-term impact by providing effective and informed responses. According to Broner, Lattimore, Cowell, and Schlenger (2004), diversion options and/or services, such as a CIT, "increased mental health service utilization in the subsequent 12 months for persons with serious mental illnesses." This may help steer persons in the right direction and help keep them focused on the services and treatments they need to avoid additional crises and being committed to a detention facility. If individuals find services that really help them, they are likely to continue returning for such services. According to National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), "Not only can CIT programs bring community leaders together, they can also help keep people with mental illness out of jail and in treatment, on the road to recovery. That's because diversion programs like CIT reduce arrests of people with mental illness while simultaneously increasing the likelihood that individuals will receive mental health services."

(https://www.nami.org/Advocacy/Crisis-Intervention/Crisis-Intervention-Team-\(CIT\)-Programs-Programs)). Although a CIT can provide many positive outcomes and can offer many advantages to a community's citizens and law enforcement members, one major advantage is that CIT law enforcement members are trained to use less force or only use force when absolutely necessary. "Skeem & Bibeau (2008) found that CIT officers used force in only 15% of encounters rated as high violence risk and that when they did use force, they generally relied on low-lethality methods. In a study of Chicago's CIT program (Morabito, Kerr, Watson, Draine, Angell, 2012), CIT officers used less force as subject resistance increased than officers that were not CIT trained." In conclusion, research has demonstrated CIT models have shown to be a cost-effective asset for communities and allow for individuals and families to receive proper services and avoid being placed in facilities that may not offer or fully address appropriate mental health care options. El Paso County SO hopes its CIT will make a lasting impact on its region and serve as a model for others.
